NO BOLSHEVIKI ON THE DIVIDE

The soldiers, sailors and marines resulting in the vicinity of Tonopah met last evening in the justice court where they canvassed the expediency of organizing an association in accordance with the principles enunciated by the national convention recently held in St. Louis. It was agreed to let the organization remain in abeyance until a report was received from the Nevada delegates who are now in Reno.

The most important step taken by the meeting was the positive understanding that no Bolsheviki tactics will be permitted either in Tonopah or the Divide and that any efforts to bring in trouble of this order will receive summary treatment by the members who fought for their flag and offered their lives as the supreme sacrifice to suppress Bolshevism. The subject was not expressed by resolution but there was no mistaking the sentiments backed by the statements of the veterans of three wars who responded to the call.

LONGSTREET AND CLIFFORD, OLDEST MINES IN COUNTY, SOLD TO RICH OPERATORS

Two of the oldest mining properties in southern Nevada changed hands yesterday when they passed from local ownership into the possession of strong syndicates which propose embarking on aggressive development. The groups are known as the Longstreet property in the Monitor Range and the Clifford, situated in the Kawich range. The former was taken over by Gov. Joe Hutchinson, the Stall brothers and W. H. McCrea who recently bought the California Tonopah mine in Tonopah. The Clifford group was bought by Joseph Shea and Briz Putnam.

The Longstreet mine is situated in the Monitor Range, 52 miles from Tonopah and is an ideal milling proposition with an abundance of water and timber in the vicinity. The ore carries both gold and silver. The last shipment made by the leasees showing returns of $40 in gold and $12 silver. Governor Hutchinson secured the mine by making a substantial payment for all the stock issued. Jack Longstreet and E. C. Courtney have worked this mine for the last thirteen years since it was located by Longstreet during the time of the Goldfield boom and succeeded in developing large orebodies from which regular shipments have been made. Lately Frank Anderson and Alexander Anderson have been leasing. Their last shipment arrived at the Belmont a few days ago and yesterday they sold their rights to all ore on hand to the new owners who settled in full while the leasees were in town with a shipment. Anderson and McAllister returned home this morning and at the same time a freighting outfit left for the mine loaded with timbers and supplies.

Work on an extensive scale will begin at once. Hutchinson, the Stall brothers and McCrea also bought six claims adjoining owned by McAllister and Anderson, known as the Jumbo. The Longstreet mine is developed by two shafts reaching a depth of 82 and 59 feet in a distance of 500 and 200 feet. From the bottom of the tunnels where the ledge was encountered drifts were run disclosing milling ore for the entire length. The Longstreet group was organized in corporate form some time ago and the stock was all held by Jack Longstreet, E. C. Courtney, John Clendenen and Jack Hall. The latter is in the U. S. On the east side of the company are numerous claims fed from a tract hot spring and the water runs over a cinder cone.

Steam rings and furnishing enough to keep a mill supplied and leave a surplus. The environment is ideal and famous for abundance of game. The company may bring in power from Belmont which is only 18 miles distant.

James Shea and Briz Putnam, who turned the option on the Clifford mine, bought on account of strong San Francisco people who came here some weeks ago to look for producing properties. Their names will be disclosed at the right time. The Clifford mine was opened through the efforts of Edward Clifford, Sr., Edward Clifford, Jr., and James Clifford and is the joint property of the heirs who all agreed to the terms of the contract by which the property in its entirety will be turned over to the new owners for active development. The mine has produced over $150,000, according to conservative estimates. In 1907 a lease was held by the McCormick company of Goldfield which was voided by failure to live up to the specifications. Interest in the Clifford mine was so strongly developed during the McCormick lease that a private telephone line was constructed to the camp where a townsite was surveyed and lots offered for sale.

OVER INCH RAIN IN THREE DAYS

Old Pluvius came to the rescue of Tonopah last night with a house-cleaning that left every nook and corner spick and span this morning. From early yesterday afternoon until late this morning rain fell in deluging fashion. At times the precipitation reached the proportions of a cloudburst and the gutters ran bank full with a deluge from the hills. At 7:30 Main street was a raging torrent and the only way to cross the street was either by wading or taking a car. Since yesterday morning a total of 75 of an inch of rain fell. The heaviest was at 5:25 in the afternoon when .29 of an inch fell in ten minutes, according to the records of the weather office. The total precipitation for the month was brought up to 1.35 inches compared with an average of 1.38. SALMON FISHERS IN THE MONEY

(By Associated Press) ASTORIA, Ore., May 29.—With the salmon fishing industry of the lower Columbia river open, the fishermen are making optimistic forecasts for the season's catch. The number of fishermen this year exceed those of any previous year by more than 1000. The fishermen say the results are greater than for the same periods in the past seasons.

More than 2500 trollers are out on the river daily, while there are upwards of 3000 gill netters engaged in supplying the 27 canneries in Astoria alone. Most of these men reside in Astoria.

One of the five varieties of Salmon found in these waters, the royal Chinook salmon brings the best remuneration to the fishermen and also to the canners. Its flesh is red and it grows to enormous size, often weighing from 100 to 125 pounds. However the average weight is in the neighborhood of 30 pounds. The fisherman receives 11 1/4 cents a pound for this variety.

Next comes the blueback which averages about two feet in length and weigh from 3 to 7 pounds, and bring 9 1/4 cents a pound to the fisherman. There are many others, including the silversides, pale pink in flesh, which along with the steelhead and greylings which bring from 5 to 6 cents a pound.

Large quantities of sturgeon, too, are caught by the fishermen, and these are a source of considerable revenue to the fisherman during the season which ends August 25.

Last year's pack at the local canneries amounted to almost a million cases of 48 one-pound cans, worth to the packer approximately $7,500,000.

MEXICAN ARMY MUST KEEP OUT

WASHINGTON, May 29.—The government has notified Carranza that permission for the passage of Mexican troops through American territory will be withheld for the present. Mexico wanted to move 2000 soldiers from Sonora to Juarez for operations against Villa. The American government believed the force which it was proposed to move not sufficient to protect American citizens in northern Mexico, because he revolutionists had cut the railroad between Juarez and Chihuahua. The state department made it clear that in the event that Carranza could show there was greater necessity for the presence of a force of 600 men immediately south of the border at Juarez than at Aguas Prieta in territory where the Yaqui Indians are becoming troublesome the position of the United States government might be altered.

Senator Moses, Republican, introduced a resolution designed to prohibit the transfer of Carranza troops across the United States without authority by congress. He said such permission would be construed by the Villa forces, justifying them in reprisals against the lives and property of Americans.

BERLIN MAKING MORE TROUBLE

BERLIN, (Wednesday), May 28.—The semi-official Wolff bureau is circulating a story under an Amsterdam date which asserts that the United States is becoming increasingly dissatisfied with developments at Versailles and that there is an "unmistakable strengthening of the inclination for an understanding with Germany through modification of peace terms."

A correspondent of a German newspaper at Versailles claims the Poles are "especially favored by the entente because they propose to take over Russia's debt to France totaling 20,000,000 francs."

The conservative press in Berlin condemns the counter proposals of the peace terms submitted by Germany, especially the financial and military concessions. The publisher of the Post says "the German people are doomed to slavery between the two until the new German arrives to break the chains." The Kreuz Zeitung is skeptical of the wisdom of the counter proposals despite what it calls their "supreme sincerity." The Tagliche Rundschau says "the German reply is fully as depressing as the entente terms."

MAROONED BY MANY WASHOUTS

There were no trains in or out of Tonopah today and it is unknown how long the camp will be marooned by the storm. Yesterday's north bound train for Reno left Watsonia this morning at 1 o'clock. From other sources of information it was gathered that the most serious trouble was at Churchill, where washouts are of frequent occurrence and of a grave nature owing to the difficulty of finding an outlet for the runoff from the hills. Another washout was reported north of Mina between that station and Luning which on this side of Sodaville it was said that the whole country is under water. Alvey Miller, who drove in last evening from Hawthorne, stated that the canyon leading from Mina to Hawthorne was washed out for a distance of eight miles. The worst road this side of Sodaville is a lake of water.

The T & G railroad sent out a work train which managed to get through to Millers repairing track in places. When last heard from the train was at Blair Junction. Travelers arriving from Mina, where No. 24 due this morning, is detained, reported that the greater part of the road between Redlich and Sodaville is washed out. There is no confirmation of this from the railroad. Train No. 24 arrived at Mina 5 hours late this morning.
